

Smiling Musher Of Cranberry Portage Is World Champion
200-mile Classic Lost by Pas Driver First Time in Six Years—26 Hours and Nine Minutes

THE PAS, Man, March 5.—Smiling Earl Brydges, of Cranberry Portage, Man., is champion "musher" of the world. Today he snatched the title away from his best friend, Emil St. Godard, after the French-Canadian son of the Pas had marked up five successive wins in The Pas Dog Derby.

Brydges' victory came after more than 26 hours of struggle along the 200-mile trail.

For five years previous to this year Brydges has been entered in the battle against St. Godard for the northland honors that come with victory in the world's longest sled-dog race. For five years, at various distances, Brydges has bowed to Emil St. Godard and consistently taken second place. But this year he came through at the close of a season when St. Godard had swept all before him in eastern races.

Solloway and Mills Claim Damages For Alleged Illegal Entry
VANCOUVER, B.C. March 5.—Following an injunction obtained by the firm of Farris Stultz and Sloan, restraining city detectives from seizing brokers and documents in the Vancouver offices of Solloway, Mills and Co. Ltd., suit was started Tuesday by Solloway and Mills against J. J. Frawley of Alberta Attorney General's department and detectives Robert Knox and A. G. G. McNeill, claiming damages for alleged trespass and illegal entry.

The suit is part of the injunction proceedings immediately taken against Frawley, Mills and Company Limited, which was returned by the court last week. It was alleged that a search warrant had been obtained by Chief Justice Aldrich, preventing seizure of brokers and documents in the brokerage offices of Solloway, Mills and Company Limited, and that the search was illegal.

Provinces Will Have To Make Own Immigration Agreements

OTTAWA WILL CO-OPERATE; NOT DICTATE

All Are Free to Enter Any Scheme They Desire

OTTAWA, March 15.—The Dominion government of immigration will not insist on the provinces to negotiate their own agreements if they desire to have immigrants brought in. When the present agreement with the railways and steamship companies for bringing in farm laborers expires, it will not be renewed as far as the Dominion government is concerned. Under the present agreement on immigrants of this type from southern European countries may be brought in if it becomes known Monday after March 31 of this year.

Some time ago the various provincial governments received letters from the federal department asking them to state the provinces had their own immigration laws made in the three western provinces on which the federal government had made no provision to them, the idea of deciding what immigrants they wanted to bring in with the provinces themselves. The Dominion was pleased to provide inspection facilities and prevent immigrants not wanted from entering the country but would not take upon itself to decide what immigrants they wished to receive or help in a financial way to assist immigration.

The Dominion government will co-operate with any agreement they desire with transportation companies, the Salvation Army or other organizations to assist in immigration. It is understood the Dominion would be agreeable to extending some facilities to British boys being brought out, and perhaps to trainees.
